for healing the body naturally!

Appetite Suppressant™ patch is a NON DRUG app that was developed as a complementary therapy program that is accepted by Doctors and Practitioners as an aid to support and restore the body's energetic function.

Made in the U.S.A.

The patch or 'bio-apps' are made to rapidly promote and activate the necessary resources to optimize body and brain function, restore missing cell communication, and accelerate the body's natural ability to heal itself.

The Appetite Suppressant patch, when used with the weight loss patch helps to burn calories and increase the metabolic system when you exercise to lose weight.

It restores the sensitivity of neurons involved in satiety, which in turn, naturally curbs the desire for food consumption. It's like getting an endorphin rush. The effectiveness of this product is directly related to the degree to which you reduce your usual daily food intake. Attempts at weight reduction which involve the use of this product should be limited to periods not exceeding three (3) months, because that should be enough time to establish new eating habits.
