Benefits of Zeolite

Zeolite has claimed to have a wide variety of health benefits. According to All-Natural Prevention, zeolite has the potential to act as a chelator and remove heavy metals from the body, improve liver function, balance biological pH levels, improve general well-being, control allergies and asthma, improve digestion and act as an antioxidant. When used as a total body detox cleanse or for daily maintenance, can help to alleviate fatigue, brain fog, headaches, and inflammation due to toxicity, and can facilitate weight loss. It also naturally balances the body's pH and makes it more alkaline, making it more likely that your body will stay healthy and strong.

Zeolites are minerals that contain mainly aluminum and silicon compounds. They are used as drying agents, in detergents, and in water and air purifiers. Zeolites are also marketed as dietary supplements to treat cancer, diarrhea, autism, herpes, and hangover, and to balance pH and remove heavy metals in the body. The Zeolite Disk promotes a healthy immune system, it's also a natural detox for removing heavy metals from the body, and help balance the pH in your system. Zeolite is comprised of silicate minerals with very open crystalline structures that make them suitable for catalytic, ion exchange and molecular sieving applications. Aluminum, silicon and oxygen atoms are arranged in a 3-D framework of channels and cages. Water molecules and cations, such as calcium, sodium, potassium and magnesium, occupy these interconnected channels and cages.

The Truth of Detox

The human body is a self-healing, self-renewing, self-cleansing organism. When the right conditions are created, vibrant well-being is its natural state. We have departed from the ways of nature and live under less than natural conditions. The air we breathe, the water we drink and shower with, the foods we eat, the cosmetics we use and the buildings we live and work in, are loaded with toxic chemicals that alone or in combination cause disease, suffering and even death. When we remove these obstacles and add what is lacking, our bodies bounce back into health as if by magic. This is natural, common-sense medicine, enabling the body to heal, regenerate and even rejuvenate itself. Detoxification cleansing and eating real foods are what nature intended food to be.
